These classical guitar lessons correspond to the first 6 years at music school. The lessons are free.
They are aimed at the isolated amateur who does not have the opportunity of having a teacher.

FORUM DELCAMP
free internet resource center for classical guitar players

French performer, composer and editor, Jean-François Delcamp divides his time between teaching the guitar, administering internet forums, publishing free music editions for classical guitar, composing and giving occasional concerts.
